SCIENTIFIC WRITING WORKSHOP

July 5, Institut Pasteur - Education Center

Institut Pasteur

The doctoral student's office, doct-office, scientific writing workshop

"Scientific publication is the testimony of a scientist investment, efforts and discoveries to be shared with the scientific community"

- The doct-office offers for the first time a workshop to help PhD students develop effective writing skills.
- Participants will learn how to appropriately present results (figures and/or tables) and how to write the different parts of a scientific paper (abstract, introduction, materials and methods, results, discussion, references).
- Participants will acquire the necessary skills to handle the publishing processes from submission to the review process; resubmission; reproducibility and bibliometrics.
- The one day workshop is organized in 2 parts: presentation and practice. This workshop will be led by Pr Jean-Marc Cavaillon and Dr Orhan Rasid.
- This workshop is open to second year PhD students.

Date: July 5, from 9:00am to 6:00pm

Place: Education Center, room 3

Registration deadline: June 15, 2018
